ON PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

We, your Committee on the President's Address have examined it carefully and commend it as practical, sound and to the point.

In keeping with the spirit of the recommendations, we suggest and recommend that the work of all organizations doing work in the bounds of Wake Baptist Association be so correlated and harmonized with that of the Association, that their annual statements can appear in the minutes of the Association as a part of a great whole.

That the Association, therefore requires the Wake Missionary Union and the Wake County Sunday School Convention as well as the Woman's Auxiliary, to make reports to the Association annually of all monies received and expended.

Further, we recommend to the churches that they require from their various Sunday Schools, an annual financial statement setting forth the collection and expenditure of funds.

We also recommend that the Association establish scholarships for ministerial education.

ASSOCIATION EDUCATIONAL BOARD

We, your Educational Board have partially kept up with the educational movement, among our people during the past year. We find there is more interest manifested in the education and preparation of our young men for the ministry than ever before. The churches of this Association are contributing more money through the budget system recommended by our Moderator than ever before in the history of the Association. They have seen that the times in which we live, demand a prepared ministry or in other words, prepared men along all lines.

Last year we received $100.00 from this Association which aided seven young men in school through the entire session. This is a very encouraging feature of our work.

We recommend that every pastor belonging to this body, preach at least two educational sermons and take a collection for the same. We also urge our pastors to lecture on this important work, take public and personal contributions and forward the same to Dr. N. F. Roberts, the Dean of the Theological Department of Shaw University.

Respectfully sumitted

Committee.

PRESIDENT'S ANNUAL ADDRESS.

Dear Co-workers, Brethren and friends of the Auxiliary to the Wake Baptist Association:

Many marvelous works have been wrought by God, in bringing about good things for His people.

September 29th 1918—just eleven months ago—this Association met in Pleasant Grove Baptist Church at Wendell, N. C., and organized the Woman's Auxiliary to the Wake Baptist Association, its purpose being to help the brethren to raise money for foreign missionary work. With pleasure we recall the the meeting held at Pleasant Grove Baptist Church, Rev. A. T. Price, Pastor. The earnestness with which you worked in striving to carry out the purpose for which we were organized, gave me a peculiar pleasure in greeting you. I wish for you, health, strength, joy and happiness while here to carry out your mission.

My sisters, our coming together each year is only a repetition, with an increase in number, interest, spirituality, loyalty and love, for the cause which we espouse and that is missions. Let us thank God for His guidance in leading us thus far, and pray that peace and love may ever exist among the women of this Auxiliary, that a crave of rivalry for personal aggrandizement may not enter our ranks, but as sisters aiming at one great object, and a desire to work for the salvation of souls, and make our meeting so effective that it will make a lasting impression for good upon those who come among us.

Our work from year to year, gives encuragement to those who are giving time, prayers and money to it. Let us never feel that it is being done in vain, when we think of the world and its present condition in comparison with the history of the past, it is truly evident that there has never been a time when the vitalizing truth of the gospel was more needed than now.

Many have declared christianity a failure, because of the failure on the part of the world to conform to the teaching of the scriptures, and especially to the spirit of the sermon on the mount.

Since we were organized, the world's war has grown into flame, destroying nations as a mighty earthquake in their mad dend struggles for national supremacy. The spirit of Europe has even invaded our own land and some of the bravest of our sons have gone down in their contention for national defense, therefore Christian friends, let us be up and doing in our humble service as missionary workers to send the Gospel to those who have it not, by fortifying and strengthening the work already organized by this Convention, both home and abroad.

Our ideal of foreign missions has not as yet arisen to the standard whereby the gospel is being given to the heathen as it should. The field is broad for service; there is much land yet to be possessed.

Personally, I am not content with the work we are doing in Africa for our fields of labor are too small, we need to spread out and enlarge our cords and send more missionaries to other parts of mother Africa apart from Liberia to carry the Gospel to the heathen.

Could we not recall the sainted name of our dear Sister Mial and an host of others who have given their lives for foreign missions of whose fields of labor we hear nothing in these latter days. Therefore, let us again begin to think that the fields to be possessed are growing larger and larger and we need more and more workers to accomplish the great work that lies before us. I would be glad if the sisters in charge of the different auxiliaries would keep correspondence with the president so that she might have a little knowledge of their work during the year. Let us be more encouraged to do a greater work for the coming year; let foreign missions play a great part in our lives, in our talks, in our conversations with those whom we come in contact.

The keynote of the present time is preparedness in every branch of our state and national government but especially in our war and navy departments, this is the watchword. It is no new word brought into use by our present time alone, but merely suited to the conditions of the present time, for a casual glance from the Holy writ discloses the fact that it has ever been the call of God to man—for instance the call of God to Noah, "prepare thee an Ark." His call to backsliding Israel through the prophet Hosea, "O Israel, prepare to meet thy God," and even the clarion voice of the wilderness preacher was keyed to the note of preparedness, for he was but a voice crying in the wilderness. His theme was, "prepare ye, the way of the Lord." The advent of our blessed Christ was the preparation for missions on earth. He lived, moved from place to place taught and performed miracles among the people and especially did he train His disciples and commanded them to go ye into all the chain which binds us to Christ. Our work for the salvation of world, and preach the gospel to every creature. There is a chain which binds us to Christ. Our work for the salvation of souls is linked on to that which He left and we are to herald the gospel to the unsaved sinner, to carry out the prophecy of our Master. The gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations and then shall the end come.

Now dear friends, this is the first time for the women of the Auxiliary to the Wake Baptist Association to have attempted to come together. We have worked hard to bring before you the best results. We started without one penny. The first of the year, we were hindered by the influenza which threw us to the last of Spring before we could make any effort to work.

We first put God in front and said if you will be with us, we will try to do our best. Then my mind was called to the 37th Psalm and 4th verse which reads: "Delight thyself also in the Lord and He shall give thee the desires of thine heart." I took that as a watchword.

I visited eight different churches; set up nine Auxiliaries. The good people received me cordially also aided me on from place to place. Dear friends, sometimes I found myself rejoicing, sometimes crying, sometimes sighing and all the time praying, but the latter, through faith, was where I received strengh to push the battle to the end.

Now dear sisters, I hope to have the pleasure of shaking hands with each of you before leaving. I recommend that each delegate return to her Auxiliary and hold an echo meeting, tell all of the members the proceedings of the body, make them feel as though they are in the real convention.

I would further recommend that some one be appointed to bring into our next meeting, a sketch of the lives of our missionaries who have labored in the foreign fields but are now sleeping a peaceful slumber, whose awakening shall be supremely blest. My sisters, I further recommend that we give the women of the state a donation, and represent by delegate in the Lott Carey Convention.

May the sentiment expressed in the following lines rise like incense daily from every heart:

"Life time is working time,
Spend no idle days,
Jesus is calling thee,
On the harvest ways,
Working with willing hands,
Sing a song of praise;
Work, ever hard for Jesus.
Learn where duty lies,
Grasp every passing day,
As a precious prize,
Glad to help the sorrowing,
Glad to sympathize,
Work, ever work for Jesus.
Life time is working time
Do thy honest part,
Though in discouragement

Bear a cheerful heart,
Trusting Jesus as thy friend,
Ne'er from Him part.
Work, ever work for Jesus.

The Easter Hope

Or, The Life Immortal

By ANDREW W. ARCHIBALD, D.D.

A timely and heartening little treatise on immortality for the present, when the world war has brought so many face to face with the mysterious hereafter. The argument is based on the resurrection of Christ, resurrection as illustrated in nature, and the longing for immortality in the souls of men. Particularly appropriate for pastors to give bereaved parishioners.

The New World Order

By SAMUEL ZANE BATTEN

Reconstruction has begun. What do men want to build? What was wrong with the old order that the cataclysm of war befell? Can the evil be put out and kept out? What are the principles and ideals that should guide citizens and governments in building a new structure that shall have foundations of security? This little book has been written to suggest the answers to these questions.
